May 2016 special newsletter

Welcome from Roma Support Group

We want to bring you information, reflections, arguments and discussion about the issues that face Roma communities in the UK. The Roma Support Group has developed over the last 18 years into a major service agency working for and with Roma communities, mainly in London. We run advice and advocacy sessions; education support programmes (including early years support) for children and families; a Roma Support and Engagement Programme (including tailored staff training); and an arts and culture programme. RSG has been able to develop work on Roma advocacy and mediation, community engagement, and also in policy and information provision. This e-bulletin is one manifestation of these developments.

"I work with Roma for very long time; I understand their issues, needs and the implications of our culture on day to day lives. I studied law and I am currently undergoing training at the Coventry Law Centre to become a solicitor, thanks to the Justice First Fellowship Scheme. I have started with family law (mainly domestic violence issues and care proceedings), then it will be housing and immigration. I also have experience of drafting recommendations for decision-makers in domestic and European institutions.

I have the skills of a leader; I care about my community and value my culture and roots of being a Roma woman. I am a brilliant role model to young Roma and a great ambassador for the Roma community – I deliver presentations to young Roma pupils with the aim to increase aspiration and training sessions to police, council and other professionals.

I also have other skills needed for Co–Chair of NRNF.

- Hardworking
- Approachable

- Attention to details
- Knowledge of law
- Research skills
- Ability to speak in diplomatic manner
- Treating everybody equally
- Listening to all opinions and arguments
- Ability to provide fair, independent judgment of situation"

Mihai Tanase

"I belong to the Roma Gypsy community and I have been living in the UK for more than 10 years. I am passionate about helping others and raise awareness around issues affecting the community. I have taken part in Red Cross service users engagement activities and I am ready to do my part in supporting the community. I am very reliable, family orientated, enthusiastic, well-known and hardworking. I want to make a difference in the life of my society and impact on decisions made around us.

I believe in a positive future, I come from a family where my parents never had school and did not access health services. I have thankfully been educated in England and I believe that having a future aimed at equality for our community is the way forward. I would like to make sure that Roma people change for the better and that we continue to improve our lives and culture.
